The Roses

Once upon a time in a beautiful church in Flamstead called St Leonards that was very busy, there was this one person called Sally and there was a group of roses in the church yard that she looked after. Sally watered the roses and picked out all of the weeds and made sure that they looked really pretty. Many people believed if anything tried to hurt or break the church the roses would stop it from happening.

The roses were very special because they'd been there over 2 centuries and have survived in the war, and nothing had ever harmed them. The roses were orangey/pink and very shiny and big. Special people in heaven look over them and give the roses superpowers and people on earth lay roses by the plaque in the flower bed to make them have even more superpowers.

Once a couple of bricks were about to fall off the church wall and it would collapse but somebody saw the bricks and then grabbed a rose off the rose bush with super powers in it and he put it down in front of the loose bricks which were just about to fall and a few days later somebody called Ben saw the rose laying next to the brick and Ben knew that's not how the magic rose worked, you have to put it on top of the bricks not in front of the bricks ,so he put it on top of the bricks and he came back a few days later and the bricks were placed back very very very tight and now Ben knew that those bricks wont ever fall off again.

Ben asked the vicar if they could cover the whole church with roses, the Vicar Tom said "yes we would have enough to cover the whole church but they would never grow back again in the flower beds " but Ben said " Don't forget we have 2 billion roses growing off that patch of roses and because they are magic roses they will never ever stop growing" Vicar Tom then agreed to cover the whole church with roses.

Once the church was covered with roses it smelt really really nice and kept all of the baddies away but even though the church smelt nice and looked very pretty, Vicar Tom was very worried about the church roof. Ben told vicar Tom not to worry as the magical roses would fix the roof with their special powers. Ben was right and along with the angels on the walls of the church the magical roses fixed the church roof.

Once the church roof was fixed Ben decided to help Sally look after the roses. Together they trimmed them to look really nice and they picked out every single weed out of the roses and nicely pressed down the soil and cleaned the plaque making sure everyone in heaven would always be able to see the roses looking pretty for ever.
